Valmichael,

I have used this NOAA gauge located at Morgan's Point :

<https://tidesandcurrents.noaa.gov/waterlevels.html?id=8770613>

Holly – is that the one that you typically use?

Thanks,

Rick Coupe

Holly / Rick,

I'm not sure which one of you I asked this question, but one of you told me of a website you visit (NOAA??) to get tidal times for cap work at site. Is this true? Will one of you email me this website please. I need it for next week's dive operations.

Thanks!

Sincerely,
